Business Lines provide basic access service and supply single line telephones, telephone lines and access to the public switched network to deliver a single, voice-grade communications channel. This service is ideal if your residential and business uses a small number of phone lines that do not require the features and functionality of a PBX or Hybrid phone system. A Basic Business Line or Residential Line will provide PBX and Key System users a low-cost option for FAX and Modem connectivity

This Acceptable Use Policy is used in conjunction with the terms of your service agreement. Violating any of these policies grants OneVoice the authority to take action to restrict or terminate your access to OneVoice Services. We reserve the right, at our discretion, to update or revise this policy, any other policy or statement on any OneVoice website, and any product offerings or programs described on any OneVoice website. Please check back periodically to review any changes to this policy.

OneVoice disclaims, to the maximum extent permitted by law, all warranties, representations or other endorsements, express or implied, with regard to the information accessed from, or through, this service, the systems which provide it and the Internet, including all warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular use, or non-infringement of any third-party rights. OneVoice does not assume any liability for the completeness, accuracy or usefulness of any information disclosed or materials accessed. In no event shall OneVoice (or any persons or entities related thereto) be liable for any special, indirect, or consequential damages associated with or arising from use of this service in any way, including any loss of use, data or profits, regardless of the form of action.

Lawful Use

You must use this site and the OneVoice Services in accordance with the terms of this policy and your OneVoice Service Agreement, and in accordance with all federal, state and local laws, ordinances, and regulations.

User Conduct, Prohibited or Unlawful Use

In order to maintain an informative and valuable service that meets the needs of the users of this site and OneVoice Services, the following rules have been established to protect against abuse.

Use of this site or the OneVoice Services for any purpose that is unlawful or in any manner which could damage, disable, overburden or impair the operation of this site, or OneVoice Services or any other party's use or enjoyment of this site or OneVoice Services, is strictly prohibited.

Specifically, you may not:

- Attempt to use or gain unauthorized access to data, accounts, hosts, systems or networks of this site, or to probe, scan or test the vulnerability of a system or network of this site, any OneVoice Services or those of any other party;
- Interfere with service to any user, host or network including, without limitation, mail-bombing, flooding, and attempting to deliberately overload the system;
- Forge any TCP-IP packet header or any part of the header information in an e-mail or a newsgroup posting;
- Falsify address information or otherwise modify e-mail headers to conceal the sender's or the recipient's identity;
- Use this site or OneVoice Services to engage in activities that violate any terms or conditions of any other network access provider or Internet service provider.

Additionally, you may not, by use of any OneVoice Service or another service, upload, post or otherwise distribute or facilitate distribution of any content, including text, communications, software, images, sounds, data, or other information that:

- Is unlawful, threatening, abusive, harassing, libelous, defamatory, obscene, deceptive, fraudulent, invasive of another's privacy, tortious, pornographic or inaccurate;
- Victimizes, harasses, degrades, or intimidates an individual or group of individuals on the basis of religion, gender, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, age, disability or any other reason;
- Constitutes unsolicited duplicative e-mail (commercial or otherwise);
 - This prohibition extends to the sending of unsolicited mass e-mailings from another service which in any way implicates the use of this site or OneVoice Services, OneVoice equipment or any OneVoice e-mail address.
 - A communication is unsolicited if it is posted in violation of a newsgroup charter, or if it is sent to a recipient who has not requested receipt of communications.
- Contains viruses, corrupted files, or any other similar software or programs that may damage the operation of another's computer.

Your participation in online communication is not edited, censored or otherwise controlled by OneVoice. However, OneVoice reserves the right to monitor content on this site and OneVoice Services and to remove content which OneVoice, in its sole discretion, determines to be harmful, offensive, or otherwise in violation of this Acceptable Use Policy.

USER'S GRANT OF LIMITED LICENSE

By posting or submitting content to any OneVoice website, you:

- Grant OneVoice the right to use, reproduce, display, adapt, modify, distribute and have distributed the content in any form, anywhere and for any purpose, subject to the OneVoice Privacy Policy, which is incorporated in and made a part of this Policy; and,

- Warrant and represent that you own or otherwise control all of the rights to the content and that public posting and use of your content by OneVoice will not infringe or violate the rights of any third party.

Termination

This Authorized Use Policy is subject to, and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia without regard to its choice of law principles, and any disputes hereunder shall be brought in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia.

Please send reports of any activity in violation of this Acceptable Use Policy to infor@ovctelecom.com. OneVoice will investigate incidents involving such violations and may involve and will cooperate with law enforcement officials if a criminal violation is suspected. Any such violation may result in criminal and civil liability.

Generally, any complaints you may have regarding unlawful use, e-mail abuse, copyright infringement or system or network security issues should be sent to infor@ovctelecom.com
